
Roman Reed: What all patient advocates at the World Stem Cell Summit should know

Roman Reed spoke with CIRM at the World Stem Cell Summit about what he thinks patients advocates should know about stem cell research. He came to the meeting in Pasadena to talk about stem cell advocacy. Roman got a spinal cord injury in 1994 and is the namesake of the Roman Reed Spinal Cord Injury Research Act which funds spinal cord injury research in California.

Source URL: <https://www.cirm.ca.gov/our-progress/video/roman-reed-what-all-patient-advocates-world-stem-cell-summit-should-know>